NEWSLETTER 4/2018

At the beginning of June, an internal water quality monitoring meeting was held. The result is the transmission of information on the major problems in the Malše River basin, which could endanger the quality of the water, the biotope and the living organisms.

Problems on both the Czech and Austrian sides were localized, in some cases the necessary solution was proposed. More about this topic you can find on BASECAMP / Docs and File / Water chemistry monitoring.
